WASHINGTON—In the presence of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, the Vice-President and Mrs. Garner, their six children, relatives, and their friends, the wedding of Miss Edith Roosevelt and Mr. William Howard Taft, son of General Taft, his father being General Frederick Root Grant of the work of the state and his family; but, for that matter, he was an engineer by profession, his specialty being sanitary engineering.

He is survived by his father and mother, General Grant and Mrs. Grant, of New York City, and by his sister, Mrs. Stuart Root of Chicago.

The wedding was performed by the Rev. George A. West, a Presbyterian, and the Rev. Dr. J. C. Allen, of the National Baptist Church.

Present at the wedding were Miss Ellen Rust, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rust, of East Orange, N. J., American niece of President Roosevelt; Mr. Mamie Stewart, daughter of Dr. W. M. Stewart, of New York; and Miss Edith Roosevelt, of the bride's family.

The invitations to the wedding were formally issued by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, who were both present at the wedding, and the President regretted that he was unable to be present.

The invitations to the wedding were addressed to all persons who were interested in the event, and all persons who were present at the wedding were considered as invited guests.

The invitations were addressed to all persons who were related to the bride and groom, and all persons who were present at the wedding were considered as invited guests.

The invitations were addressed to all persons who were related to the bride and groom, and all persons who were present at the wedding were considered as invited guests.